When the temperature exceeds 110 degrees - It's time to Call on our Federal Legislators!

During the Summer, our federal legislators get a break from Congress and have time to travel home. While they are back at home, here in Arizona, our Advocacy team works to set up 1:1, face to face, visits with our Federal legislators and also when feasible with our Regulators.

We have come to call this annual activity our "August Recess Rush."

Are you curious about Advocacy? Would you like to include your concerns and thoughts in conversations with those in our state who make the rules?

Join us in these Summer visits to our Federal regulators. This is a great way, and a perfect time, to dip your toe into Advocacy, experience the camaraderie and teamwork our local chapter advocates have created, and learn how you and your voice can Advance our chosen profession.

Reach out to Matt Benson with any question or to express your interest. We will show you the ropes!
